

Quincy Center Projects Completed/Underway Since 2010

- Walter Hannon Parkway.
East-West connector through the heart of Quincy Center. $8 million final phase completed and road opened in 2011. Federal funding.

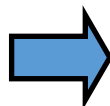

- Town Brook Restoration.
$10 million construction creates new underground culvert away from development area and restores brook flow for fish habitat. Two new parks with open-channel to open Spring 2014 . State funding.

- Adams Green transportation improvements. Construction to create new public space at Church of The Presidents. $6 million project beginning this Spring. Federally funded.

- Several million dollars in privately financed underground utilities on Chestnut Street and Cottage Avenue.

- Adams Green park design and new Quincy Center MBTA station design. Preliminary work funded by state/federal grants. $10 million in state House transportation bond bill for T station.